

DOING THE MOST GOOD™

Success Story

Letter from Amanda, former TAPC resident

In my heart, I believe there is a deeper purpose to the Parenting Center. I know this is a program for pregnant and parenting teenage females, but in my eyes, I see more. I see adults - adults who work for people such as us to make things possible in our futures. Some of those adults have even been in our same situation. I believe that the people who work for this program truly believe in who we are and what we are capable of. But it is up to us to be our own inspiration. Success is only possible with self-determination and self-motivation. As much as staff can believe in us and tell us it's possible - we must put in the effort. I know school, work and motherhood is hard, trust me, I do all three. These things are even harder when you're young and when people doubt you. But forget those who don't believe in you. I do believe in everyone in here and so does all the staff at the parenting center.

If you really believe in yourself that's the only thing you need to have to get through in life. Keep believing in yourself and good things will come. Never give up and never let anyone tell you your dreams are unrealistic. I pray that everyone will succeed in the goals they have set for themselves.

May everyone who reads this and agrees please voice your opinion and extend a helping hand to those who need it.

Thank you,

Amanda
